LIVE and LET LIVE FOLKS

BECKHAM TO SPEAK.

Ex-Governor J. C. W. Beckham will address the democratic voters of Garrard county at the court house in Lancaster on Monday July 27th at 1:30 o'clock P.

Monday is county court day. We need the $$$, come in and bring them to us.

A feeling of satisfaction seems to pervade the entire community since the recent copious rains.

Lancaster looked deserted Sunday. Everybody that could possibly get away went to Crab Orchard Springs.

An unprecedented crop of blackberries was marketed here last week. The prevailing price was 15 cents per gallon.

Bob Burton says they are already beginning to move the fences in the Buckeye country, in order to make room for the tremendous corn crop.

Ex-Gov. J. C. W. Beckham will speak at Lancaster at 1:30 p. m. July 27th, Court day, in the interest of his candidacy for the Senate.

Come in Monday and add your name to the subscription list of the Record. We are getting out a good paper, but of course you do not know this if you do not read it.

M. in behalf of his candidacy for the democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate, Gov. Beckham has a goodly following in this county and a good crowd will doubtless take this opportunity of hearing him.

Listen for Little Boy Blue and his horn. He'll tell you where to get your dinner, Court Day.

Jim Smith's new bungalow on Richmond street is going to be one of the handsomest residences in town and is nearing completion. Wonder who is going to live in it?

During the interim between the week stands of tent shows, Manager Romans is presenting some splendid film offerings at the Opera House. Patronize your home institution occasionally.

The colored Odd Fellows in this section ran an excursion train to Richmond last Thursday to take the delegates to the Grand Lodge, which was in session in that city. Lancaster furnished a good delegation.

The Christian Endeavor will serve a Carnival Lunch, Court day. Coffee, old ham, chicken, pies, ice cream etc. in abundance.

Everybody come and be served at noon hour by Old Mother Goose, and her helpers.

Ex-Gov. J. C. W. Beckham will speak at Lancaster at 1:30 P. M. July 27th, Court day, in the interest of his candidacy for the Senate.

A GOOD FARM.

Mr. R. H. Bronaugh, of Crab Orchard, is offering in this issue of the Record, his fine farm situated near Crab Orchard. This is the most productive farm in that section and if we mistake not, the best crop of tobacco sold over the Danville breaks in 1912 was produced on this farm. Any one desiring such a place would do well to communicate with Mr Bronaugh.

A Delightful Social Function.

Mrs. Carrie Davidson entertained last evening at the home of her son, Mr. Guy Davidson, in honor of Miss Elizabeth Morgan, of St. Louis, Miss Edna Gully, of Texas and Miss Lotty Carson, of Stanford. Miss Allie Yantis assisted her in entertaining while Miss Katie Barnes Dickerson and Carrie Bell Romans served frappe. The string band and delightful refreshments were enjoyed by about sixty of the young people who called during the evening.

BETTER GET A LICENSE.

Every person who drives an automobile not his own must be provided with a "Chauffer's license", and the penalty for failure to so provide yourself brings a severe penalty. A state inspector is liable to hold you up at any time and demand to see your credentials. Better write to the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles at Frankfort Ky and get an application blank for a temporary license, which is sufficient until the examination is held at your nearest point, at which time you will be required to undergo the test required by the board.

BEST TENT SHOW ON THE ROAD TO PLAY WEEKS ENGAGEMENT IN LANCASTER.

The W. I. Swain Show Company will come to Lancaster next week for a weeks engagement and will appear under their own large water proof canvas during the entire week. This show comes highly recommended and does not as a usual thing play towns the size of Lancaster. The press of West ern Kentucky speaks in very complimentary terms of the Swain shows. They have in their repertoire several attractions which they play under a big royalty, and include "Ishmael," "The House Of A Thousand Candles" and several other splendid plays. They carry a splendid Silver Band of ten pieces and several open air concerts will be given during the engagement, and also a concert before the doors open on the grounds each evening.

This company far outranks the usual run of "tent shows" which have been "hitting" Lancaster of late, and will give our people an opportunity of seeing some splendid attractions at a nominal cost. Forty people are carried in the caste and they travel in their own private Pullman cars.

"EPH." BROWN APPOINTED POSTMASTER THE APPOINTMENT A POPULAR ONE.

A telegram from Congressman Harvey Helm on Wednesday afternoon announced the fact that Mr. Ephraim P. Brown had been appointed Postmaster at Lancaster succeeding Mr. W. T. West, whose term of office expired in March last.

It is hardly probable that Mr. Brown will be checked into office until about August, as his appointment will have to go to the Senate for confirmation, after which he will have to make bond, and these necessary preliminaries will of a necessity take considerable time.

The appointment of Mr. Brown is a happy ending of a long hard fight for the Lancaster office. The various aspirants for the position all had a more or less strong following, Mr. Brown having among the strongest, and while there are many who espoused the candidacy of other aspirants, yet there can be found no one who was really opposed to Mr. Brown having the appointment, and expressions of satisfaction are heard upon every side at his success.

Ephraim Price Brown was born and raised in Garrard county, is 41 years old and has lived here all his life. He is a son of Mrs. Dolly Brown, and is personally known to nearly every person in the county. He is an unwavering democrat, and has often rendered efficient service to his party. He served as deputy postmaster under the Cleveland administration, made a very popular and efficient officer, and the duties are perfectly familiar to him. Mr. Brown for the past 14 years has been in the employ of Mr. J. E. Stormes, and his uniform kindness and courteous treatment to everyone has made him a host of friends throughout the county to whom his appointment will be a source of great gratification. The Record congratulates Mr. Brown on his success in securing the appointment, and the people who patronize the office on the fact that they are to have such a courteous and efficient official.

WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION.

All persons who desire the privilege of contributing to the box to be sent to the Hindman Settlement School, will please send their contributions to Mrs. Prather's residence Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Dollie Brown will receive the packages.

MORE BEANS, LESS POLITICS PLEASE.

The political pot boils with much more vehemence in this locality now-a-days than the bean pot. The former commodity is much more plentiful than latter, but there are a great many people who would gladly have more beans and less politics, the former are much more sustaining.

WHERE ARE THE GAME WARDENS?

We of course realize that a Game Warden has no control over the elements but there are persistent reports of dynamiting in Dix river, and between the ravages of hail storms (?) and the dynamiters the fish are liable to be a thing of the past. Does look as if the latter could be brought to the bars of justice.

DILLARD LITRELL ADJUDGED INSANE.

Dillard Littrell was adjudged insane by a jury in Judge Arnold's court last week and committed to the Eastern Hospital at Lexington. An officer came from that institution for him on last Saturday. Littrell is about 45 years of age and is a son of Mr. James Littrell. He has been suffering with periodical hallucinations for several years, and his condition became such as to make it necessary that he be confined.

MRS. R. K. CONN SERIOUSLY ILL.

Mrs. R. K. Conn the aged mother of Messrs James, John, Will and Frank Conn of this place, has been seriously ill at the family home on White-Lick Creek in this county, but her condition is much improved and her physicians now think that her recovery is but the question of time. Mrs. Conn stuck a splinter in one of her fingers, from which blood poisoning developed, and at one time her condition was regarded as serious.

MR. PARKER JENKINS Loses Residence And Contents.

Between 11 and 12 o'clock Wednesday morning Mr. Parker Jenkins, one of the engineers at the water works plant lost his residence and contents by fire. Mr. Jenkins' home was adjoining the water works property, and at the time of the fire he was at the station pumping, while his wife had gone to the home of her mother in the country. Mr. Eb Ross and Jessie Thomas were in an adjoining tobacco field, but when they discovered the fire the house was a mass of flames and they were unable to rescue anything from the fire. The origin of the fire is unknown. Only $400 insurance was carried. Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Jenkins in his severe loss.

RECORD PRICE FOR EXPORT CATTLE.

W. S. (Pony) Beasley, of Lexington and formerly of this county was in town last Tuesday buying cattle for feeding. He tells us that he has just sold his export cattle to Monte Fox, agent for Armour & Co. for the record price of $8.75 per hundred. There were a hundred and eighty cattle in the lot and averaged 1510 pounds per head. He received $132.12 per head or $23,782.50 for the lot. Pony has been handling fine cattle "since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary" and this is the highest price he has ever received. Pony says that he agrees with Pres. Wilson and Henry Ford that the business depression is merely psychological.

CLYDE RUBLE DROWNED While Bathing In Kentucky River.

Clyde Ruble, aged 26 years, was drowned while bathing in Kentucky river near his home in Jessamine county on last Friday afternoon. The young man was accompanied by his twin brother Clarence and several other young men, who saw him sink, but were unable to reach him in time to save his life. His remains were interred in the family burying grounds at Mount Olivet in this county on last Sunday afternoon. The deceased was unmarried and was a son of the late Charles Ruble, and a member of the well known and popular Ruble family of the Buena Vista section, and was himself a popular young man. Until recently young Ruble was a resident of this county, but about two years ago he with the remaining members of the family removed to the Handy farm near Wilmore in Jessamine county.

MRS. BRADLEY IS GIVEN $7.500 Husband's Salary For One Year.

In the General Deficiency Bill, which has been reported to the Senate, is $7,500, to be paid to Mrs. Margaret Duncan Bradley, widow of the late Senator W. O. Bradley. This is one years salary of the late Senator and is given as is the usual custom. The measure also provides for 60 days pay for the clerks of the late Senator Bradley.

SENATOR CAMDEN TO GIVE BIG BARBECUE At Versailles On July 29th.

The State Farmers' Union will meet in convention at Versailles on July 28th and 29th and 30th, and upon the second day of the meeting, July 29th, U. S. Senator Johnson N. Camden, will give a mammoth barbecue at his home place Spring Hill, for the entertainment of the assembled farmers. Senator Camden has expressed his intention of being present upon this occasion to make his guests welcome, provided his duties at Washington will permit his attendance. Senator Camden gave a barbecue last year at which the attendance was variously estimate at from 15,000 to 20,000, and the occasion was one long to be remembered.

FAMOUS OLDSPRINGS AS POPULAR AS EVER.

The many Lancaster visitors at Crab Orchard are loud in their praise for this famous old hostelry and the entertainment and amusement afforded them by Ma an Pa. A criterion of the Springs popularity is the fact that there were three hundred guests registered there last Sunday. The music is better than ever, which in itself insures good dancing, the swimming pool furnishes the amusement for the afternoon, and with the fine table fare and the finest mineral waters in the South, Crab Orchard Springs well deserves the patronage which it is receiving.

Ex-Gov. J. C. W. Beckham will speak at Lancaster at 1:30 P. M. July 27th, Court day, in the interest of his candidacy for the Senate.

In use for 42 years — and still going

In a recent letter to Studebaker, L. J. Balch of Coshocton, Ohio states that he owns a Studebaker Farm Wagon which has been in constant use for 42 years and is still giving good service.

This clearly shows that a Studebaker Farm Wagon is a good investment for any farmer.

We constantly carry a full line of Studebaker Farm Wagons, just as dependable, just as strongly built as the 42 year old wagon owned by Mr. Balch.

When you want a Farm Wagon, come in and let us show you our line of STUDEBAKERS.

We can save you money.

A WOMAN'S CHARMS

Beautiful hair, fluffy, lustrous, abundant and free from dandruff, is one of woman's greatest charms—it's her main delight—yet many who would be most attractive but for their streaked, thin and lifeless hair, think there is no remedy, and that pretty hair is a gift of nature. Beautiful hair is really a matter of care and attention. Parisian Sage, when rubbed into the scalp and applied to the hair, will work wonders; you will be surprised and delighted with the first application—not only will the hair appear abundant, soft, fluffy, radiant with life, but really doubly beautiful.

Parisian Sage supplies hair and scalp needs. It surely removes dandruff with one application and cleanses the hair of all dirt and excessive oil. It is an inexpensive, scientific tonic, and contains nothing to injure the hair or scalp. It can be secured from R. E. McRoberts or at any drug store.

FINE FARM FOR SALE

For private reasons I will have to give up farming; and will sell my home place of 230 acres. This farm is in 1-2 mile of Crab Orchard, adjoining the Fair Grounds and lands of J. W. Guest. It has a brick dwelling of six rooms, hall, porch, and cellar; a frame summer dining room and kitchen attached; a good tenant house, two stock barns, a $1,200 tobacco barn of 8 acres capacity, and all other necessary out-buildings.

This farm is in a high state of cultivation; 130 acres of river bottom land, this is fine corn, meadow, or grazing land; 100 acres of up-land, adapted to blue grass, and is fine for tobacco, corn, wheat and other grain.

Dix river bounds it on the east, with two creeks running through the farm, five never-failing springs, and a splendid bored well, of pure limestone water, at the door, which gives an abundance of stock water during the dryest seasons, which makes it an ideal stock farm.

This farm can be nicely divided into two farms--about 130 acres with tenant house; and 100 acres with improvements.

Will sell as a whole or in two tracts, to suit purchasers. Liberal terms will be given. Seeding privileges given, and full possession January 1st, 1915.

The number of illiterates in Kentucky as shown by the recent census, is astounding as well as surprising, and a herculean effort is going to be made to reduce the percentage to a great extent during the coming school year.

One great cause of the vast number of illiterates in our state is the failure of parents to observe the school laws, especially the truant law, and a stricter observance of this law is going to be required in future. Every child of school age in Garrard county, both black and white, is going to be in school during the coming term, or the authorities are going to know the reason why. Parents who continue to disregard this law are going to be taken strictly to task, and some stiff punishment is going to be handed out to those who are found guilty of its infringement.

A vast amount of money is being expended in the state of Kentucky annually to further the cause of education, the per capita tax is larger this year than ever before, and there is not a child within the commonwealth but what should be given the advantage of an education. And if a child fails of this advantage, it is the fault of the parent. The tuition is without cost, and in cases where it is shown conclusively that the parents are unable to furnish books, they will be furnished. Thus it leaves but the matter of clothing and food to be provided by the parents, and we do not believe there is a family in Garrard county, black or white, but that can provide these necessities for their children, and if there are, we are confident if they will let it be known, then these will be provided for them.

The entire matter sifted to the bottom, when a child is out of school, places the entire responsibility upon the parents, and that responsibility is indeed a very grave one, much graver than you may think, as you will realize if once the school authorities get you in their clutches.

In future the teacher will report to her district Chairman the names of all children who are absent, the trustee will in turn report to the County Superintendent, and that officer will if upon investigation, she finds the parents are responsible for the delinquency, report the matter to the county Judge, who will impose a fine for the offense, and in the event the child is not placed in school and kept there, inflict such punishment as will deter the parent from ever again disregarding the truant laws. "Going to school" does not mean sending the child to school one day and keeping him at home a week, it means going as regularly as health and circumstances will permit. The fact that you "need Johnnie at home" is no excuse. Kentucky needs Johnnie at school much worse than you need him at home, and she proposes to see that he is kept there.

This is a warning, you may not believe or heed it, but if you do not, you will suffer the consequences. Schools begin the first Monday in August. See that the children are properly prepared, provided with what they need, and start them in the first day and keep them there every day that it is possible. Let us do away with this alarming state of illiteracy in Kentucky. Every child is entitled to an education, give him the benefit of the opportunities which are justly his, without the intervention of the law. Do not force the law to make you render to your children the duties which are theirs by right.

Ex-Gov. J. C. W. Beckham will speak at Lancaster at 1:30 p. m. July 27th, Court day, in the interest of his candidacy for the Senate.

SENATOR CAMDEN RECEIVES ASSURANCEFROM SECRETARY MCADOO THAT Funds Will Be Furnished For Moving Crops.

Senator Johnson N. Camden has received assurance from Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo that Kentucky will be well taken care of in the matter of providing funds for the moving of Kentucky crops.

"It is my purpose and desire," said Mr. McAdoo, according to Senator Camden, to "deposit Governments funds, not only to move the crops, but to help every kind of legitimate business in every section of the country where I am convinced that assistance is necessary and desirable. I shall comply with your request and furnish Kentucky its full quota."

This statement by the Secretary, if accepted literally, is of vast importance to the people of Kentucky.

MRS. HAMILTON RETURNS

FROM LOUISVILLE

Entirely Cured Of Her Recent Illness.

Mrs. Mary Hamilton has just returned from Louisville where she went for treatment for a virulent skin trouble with which she has been effected for some time. She was under the care of Dr. Orendorff, and the many friends of this most estimable lady will be delighted to know that she was entirely cured and is now enjoying better health than she has enjoyed in years.

FORMER GARRARD

COUNTY LADY

Near Death In Illness.

Friends and relatives here have been apprised of the serious illness of Miss Katie Jennings at the home of her mother Mrs. Mary Jennings in Arcola, Ill. Miss Jennings who is a trained nurse, received a severe fall several years ago while in attendance upon a patient, and her present illness is said to be the result of the fall. Miss Jennings is a daughter of the late George Jennings, and has many relatives in this county. The family removed to Illinois about six years ago.

GARRARD AND

BOYLE COUNTY.

Colored Institute In Session.

The Colored Institute for Boyle and Garrard counties is in session in Lancaster this week and 33 teachers are in attendance, 14 from Garrard and 19 from Boyle county. Prof. F. M. Wood, Principal of the Paris colored schools is the instructor and is being ably assisted by Prof. Burns, principal of the local colored schools. Prof. Wood formerly was in charge of the colored schools at this place and is one of the best colored educators in Central Kentucky. Much interest is being manifested by our colored people in the Institute, which clearly indicates that they are keeping abreast of the popular movement for better education in Kentucky.

BETTER WORK WHEN

SUMMONED.

There were three convictions in Judge Arnold's court last week for failure to work the county roads when summoned to do so, and fines were assessed in each case. Judge Arnold is determined that the law in this regard shall be observed, and in every case where parties who refuse or fail to work the road when summoned, he proposes to enforce the law. More attention is being given to the matter of county roads than ever before, and every man who is summoned will either perform the duty exacted of him in this regard or else find the strong arm of the law being brought to bear upon him.

HUERTA SURRENDERS REINS

Of Government In Mexico.

Dictator Huerta has surrendered the reins of Government in Mexico in favor of Foreign Secretary Carrizal, who has become Provisional President of Mexico. Huerta took passage on the German steamer Dresden for Jamaica, he was accompanied by Gen. Blanquet, his Minister of War, their families and many friends. It is said that Huerta completely depleted the Mexican treasury, not leaving a peso for the payment of the salaries of government officials, which are due this week. Huerta is said to have taken several million dollars with him, his final destination being some point in Europe, probably Paris.

Carrizal and Gen. Carranza are treating for peace in Mexico and it is highly probable that President Carrizal will within a week surrender the presidency to Gen. Carranza and that final peace will then be assured.

FREE LECTURE AT

SCHOOL AUDITORIUM.

Dr. James William Lowber, of Austin, Texas will lecture at the school auditorium Sunday night, his subject being "A Higher Social and Spiritual Life." Dr. Lowber does not come as a stranger to Lancaster people, having been minister at the Christian Church here at one time. He is a graduate of Butler and Kentucky Universities and is also a Doctor of both Science and Philosophy in the East. It has been said that Dr. Lowber has received more literary and scientific honors than any preacher in the world. He is a Fellow of the Royal Geographical and Royal Astronomical Societies of London, and a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He is also a member of the Royal Societies and Authors Club of London.

Dr. Lowber has been both a college president and a university chancellor. He is the author of eight books, some of which have gained an international reputation. He is an ex-priest of the Knights Templars, a thirty second degree Mason and a noble of the Mystic Shrine. He is also Past Chief Patriarch of the Odd Fellows and a past Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias. Dr. Lowber as a mark of affection for his former home will give this lecture free and without collection, and everyone should make an effort to hear this distinguished man. The lecture will be held Sunday night in the School Auditorium at seven forty five and on account of the lecture, the usual union service will be omitted.

BAND TO PLAY.

The Swain Show Co., which will exhibit at Lancaster one week beginning Monday, July 27th has offered to the friends of Gov. Beckham their Band to play just before and after the speaking of Gov. Beckham on the afternoon of July 27th which is Court day. This band is a good one and is said to be one of the best traveling with any tented exhibition this season. Come out and hear them play in front of the Court house about one o'clock court day.

BASE BALL.

On last Saturday afternoon on the former grounds Paint Lick was defeated by Berea by a score of 11 to 4, and White Station beat Point Leavell on the Point Leavell grounds by a score of 8 to 4. Paint Lick plays Berea at Berea next Saturday and Point Leavell will go to White Station for a return game with that team.

Much interest is being manifested in the games by the people in that section of the county, and it is said that business is practically suspended on Saturday afternoon and everyone goes to the ball games.

ANOTHER CASE OF

"GOING AWAY FROM HOME

TO GET THE NEWS."

The following is taken from the Berea Citizen, and in view of the fact that Lancaster has no ball team and has not had one this season, we feel sure the Base Ball Editor of the Citizen was grossly imposed upon by some designing person.

"The Berea baseball team played the Lancaster team at Point Leavell, Garrard county, last Saturday. John Riley Jones of the home team was the first man to the bat, and batted a three bagger which put the Berea team in the lead. All during the game they outclassed the Lancaster team in almost every particular. The score was 6 to 4 in favor of Berea.

AFTER 53 YEARS

GARRARD COUNTY MAN

Has War Record Cleared.

The following press dispatch appeared in the Lexington Leader of the 20th inst, and something similar has appeared in nearly every daily paper recently:

"Washington, July 20-Representative Harvey Helm, after eight years fight, has succeeded in having the War Department remove the charge of desertion against James A. Holman, of Paint Lick, Garrard county, Ky., who after being sent home sick from the front in '61, was marked a deserter.

Just fifty-three years later the charge was removed and Holman given a pensionable status. He has nothing on which to live, and with his wife is leading a wandering life.

Helm is anxious to locate him, as Holman, in addition to being allowed a pension from now on, will draw several thousand dollars back pay." Mr. Holman has long been a resident in and around Paint Lick, and as stated in the dispatch is a wanderer. He is in straightened circumstances and does not remain long in one place, however, he does not get far away from Paint Lick, and has several relatives in that vicinity. During the year 1904 he lived in Lancaster. No one seems to know his exact whereabouts just at this time. Should any reader of the Record chance to know of Mr. Holman's whereabouts, they will confer a favor on him by advising him to communicate at once with Rep. Helm at Washington D. C. in regard to the above matter.

"GOING ROUND

ROBIN HOOD'S

BARN

TO GET IN AT THE DOOR."

The following article taken from the Lexington Leader gives an account of a trip Wood Dunlap made to Crab Orchard Springs:

"Wood Dunlap took his family to Crab Orchard yesterday in his motor car but the trip, while made in three hours, was not without its difficulties. Some workmen were repairing a bridge over the Hanging Fork, in Lincoln county and there Mr. Dunlap encountered an opening in the bridge eight feet wide. He set his inventive mind to work and soon crossed the structure on improvised tracks made out of eight-inch timber found conveniently near. On his return trip he found matters worse still but finally overcame all difficulties and was in Lexington by nightfall. "Why didn't you ford the stream and save yourself all of that trouble?" asked Milton Sanchez, who was listening to the story. "Maybe he didn't have a Ford machine," cautiously suggested The Leader man, and then the crowd adjourned."

Wood was raised in "these parts" and is well acquainted with the geography and topography of the various roads which lead to Crab Orchard. He evidently had a lot of time when he would take any road which would compel him to cross the Hanging Fork in going from Lexington to the Springs.

CONGRESSMAN

STANLEY

SHOWS REMARKABLE

GAIN OVER BECKHAM

ACCORDING TO STATISTICS GATHERED

By The Cincinnati Enquirer.

Six months ago statistics gathered by the Cincinnati Enquirer showed Ex-Governor Beckham to have an overwhelming lead over both Stanley and McCreary in the race for the nomination for the U. S. Senate. Sundays Enquirer contained a report from the same identical territory, prepared by the same man, Thomas W. Cromwell, the Enquirer's Lexington correspondent, and conceded to be one of the best posted and most versatile political writers in the country, which shows Stanley to be but a meager 1000 votes behind Beckham, and gaining ground rapidly.

To ascertain as accurately as possible the true status of the various candidates in the state, the following cards were mailed to the sheriffs and editors of each of Kentucky's 120 counties:

"Will you, after conferring with several well-posted Democrats in your county, and without regard to your own personal preferences, fill out the accompanying card and mail it to me not later than Saturday, July 18?"

The return post card called for an estimate of the total Democratic vote to be cast at the primary election, which is to be held two weeks from today—Saturday, August 1—and for the probable division of that vote to Governor James B. McCreary, former Governor J. C. W. Beckham and Congressman A. O. Stanley, the three candidates for the Democratic long-term nomination for United States Senator.

At this writing returns have been received from 63 counties, but in checking the estimates against the popular vote for President in 1912 and for Governor in 1911, it was found that four newspaper men had put down figures so much in excess of the normal Democratic vote that their cards from Bell Bourbon, Grant and Martin counties were put aside and not considered.

The reports from the other 59 counties (one less than half the number in the state) contain estimates at or below the normal Democratic vote and they appear to bear out the claim of Stanley and his headquarters men and benches in various parts of the state that during the past 30 days the Second District Congressman has been making heavy gains.

They further produce the impression that the race is much closer than former Governor Beckham, General Percy Hale, Assistant State Treasurer Bob Phillips and others of the Bardstown man's camp believe it to be and decidedly closer than the writer's advice canvassed of three and six months ago indicated.

The returns likewise appear to make it certain that Governor McCreary will be a poor third in the race, as was indicated in the December canvass.

The totals for the 59 counties give Beckham 35,925, Stanley 34,515 and McCreary 13,480. These figures came from 40 Sheriffs and 19 editors. The counties reported by Sheriffs are Ballard, Graves and Lyon, in the First Congressional District; Daviess, Henderson, Hopkins, McLean and Union in the Second Congressional District; Barren, Edmonson and Muhlenberg, in the Third Congressional District; Hardin, Hart, Nelson and Washingtons, in the fourth Congressional District, Carroll, Gallatin and Trimble, in the sixth Congressional District; Henry Oldham and Woodford, in the seventh Congressional District; Casey Jessamine, Madison and Mercer, in the eighth Congressional District; Boyd, Carter, Elliott, Fleming, Harrison, Lawrence, Mason, Montgomery and Wolfe, in the Ninth Congressional District; Floyd, in the tenth Congressional District, and Harlan, Rockcastle, Russell, Wayne and Whitley, in the eleventh Congressional District.

The returns from editors included in the count came from Calloway, in the First Congressional District; Simpson and Warren in the third District; Larue Marion and Ohio in the fourth District; Clark and Powell in the Seventh District; Breathitt, Elliott, Lewis, Morgan, Nicholas and Rowan in the Ninth District; Magoffin in the tenth District and Clifton, Harlan, Monroe and Wayne in the Eleventh District.

The aggregate of the estimates is $3,920 a bit high, possibly, when it is remembered that the talk of the leaders has been that a light vote will be cast in the majority of the counties of which Beckham is accorded approximately 43 per cent, Stanley a little better than 41 per cent, and McCreary a trifle under 16 per cent.

Now, if the returns to come from the other Sheriffs and editors, which include the larger counties of Jefferson, Kenton, Fayette and Campbell, prove to be in keeping with those herein considered, and if the estimates have a reasonably fair line on the probabilities in their respective counties, it would indicate surprises are in store for several somedays two weeks hence."

Gen. Hale and Gov. Beckham's other close friends, managers and advisers are maintaining their attitude of self confidence and their utterances continue to be of the confident kind which they have maintained from the inception of the race, while the friends of Gov. McCreary continue their "wait and see" attitude, which is coming to be looked upon with indifference by the wise ones, and which appears very much like they were anxiously hoping for and waiting for something to "turn up."

That Mr. Stanley is constantly and consistently gaining ground, no one who has followed the proceedings for the past few weeks can deny, and in the face of the figures offered by the Enquirer, which are reliable and from an indisputable source, if he continues to gain ground from now until the election as he has in the past few weeks, he will surely come under the pole a winner.

The time is short, all we can do is to pursue Gov. McCreary's tactics, "wait and see."

SHOWMAN INJURED.

Ralph Taylor, "Bluecloud" one of the performers with the Williams Stock Co., whose tents were pitched at the Ball Park last week, was seriously injured while assisting in loading the show preparatory for their departure last Saturday night.

"Bluecloud" was knocked from the top of a wagon on which he was standing by a dangling electric light wire, and received a serious fracture of one of his legs. He was taken to his boarding house, Mr. Wesley Walker's, and medical assistance summoned, his injuries were attended to and he was made as comfortable as possible, but he will be compelled to remain in Lancaster until his injuries will permit his rejoining the troupe. The injured man is a graduate of the Carlisle Indian School at Carlisle Pa., and together with his wife, has been with the Williams Co. for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Noe have rented their residence to Mr. and Mrs. Claude Pruitt and will leave soon to make their home in Ohio. Their many friends regret very much to see them leave. Possession will be given Aug. 1st.

Mr. R. I. Burton and children and Miss Hallie Coy went to Richmond Sunday to see Mrs. Burton, who is at the Gibson Infirmary. Mrs. Burton is getting along nicely since her recent operation and hopes to be able to come home in a few days.

Disraeli's Splurge With Cane.

Speaking of walking sticks reminds us of young Disraeli. Writing from Gibraltar, and telling his sister to inform their mother what a sensation his waistcoats and studs were making among the officers, he added: "I have also the fame of being the first who ever passed the straits with two canes, a morning and an evening cane. I change my cane on the gun fire and hope to carry them both on to Cairo. It is wonderful the effect those magical wands produce. I owe to them even more attention than to being the supposed author of—what is it? I forget." The fault of many walking sticks is that they are too short. Walk with a stick that seems at first intended for a man taller than yourself and you acquire an upright carriage. A Brighton shop that I pass occasionally is selling any number of sticks through pushing the testimony of a well known doctor as to the health advantages of long walking sticks.—London Chronicle.

Smoke and Soot. Soot, the principal trouble maker in smoke, is the product of incomplete combustion, and is formed partly by the mechanical removal of ash by the chimney draft and partly by the decomposition of the volatile portion of the fuel which is formed by the process of destructive distillation. The character of soot varies with the distance from the grate at which it has been deposited, as well as the temperature of the furnace, amount of air, and method of firing. The acids contained in soot attack mortar, masonry, woodwork, metal work and building material generally. In many European cities it has been found that soot causes the rapid disintegration of stately and public monuments. The damage done to inside decorations appears to be no less important than the effects upon the exterior of buildings. Smoke is visible proof of imperfect combustion of fuel, and consequently evidence of waste and inefficiency.—New York American.

True Hospitality.

I pray you, O excellent wife, not to cumber yourself and me to get a rich dinner for this man or that woman who has alighted at our gate, nor a bed-chamber made ready at too great a cost. These things, if they are curious in, they can get for a dollar at any village. But let this stranger, if he will, in your looks, in your accent and behavior, read your heart and earnestness, your thought and will, which he cannot buy at any price in any village or city, and which he may well travel fifty miles and dine sparingly and sleep hard in order to behold. Certainly, let the board be spread and let the bed be dressed for the traveler, but let not the enthusiasm of hospitality lie in these things. Honor to the house where they are simple to the verge of hardship, so that there the intellect is awake and reads the laws of the universe.—Emerson.

Actors In China.

Music as a profession is not now regarded as wholly reputable, but it is common to hear men singing snatches of theater songs as they go along the streets or country lanes, and amateur instrumentalists are many both among the poor and the better educated classes. We listened once, almost entranced, to a boatman on the inner waters of the Chekiang province declaiming with clear, strong voice and tune and rhythm for more than an hour at night a poem of short cantos in praise of Buddha. * * * It is a common thing at Peking, the chief home of actors, to see a man standing with his face against the city wall and yelling like one demented. He is an actor practicing his part and strengthening his voice.—The Chinese People.

An Easy Solution.

"How does the breakfast suit you, John?" inquired the young bride anxiously.

"It's just right, dearest," said her husband. "It may be plebeian, but I'm awfully fond of calves' liver for breakfast."

One Way.

Easygo (who has just borrowed $40)—Much obliged, old man. I can now pay off my tailor and begin the year free of debt.

Calls for Extreme Penality.

Among the offenses for which capital punishment can be ordered in English law today is arson in a royal dockyard or arsenal.

Daily Thought.

The Capable Woman.

The capable woman will always have a baby to nurse, and the baby will be her husband.—James Stephens.

Don't Be Irregular Attending Church; Be a

Consistent Performer; Go Every Sunday

GO TO CHURCH!

Reports from all over the country show that the GO TO CHURCH movement is exceeding all expectations. Pittsburgh was one of the cities that made a record. Religious fervor there attained a high pitch when thousands of people who had been remiss in their spiritual duties for years responded to the invitation to make GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY a success. Practically every church benefited by the innovation and some to such an extent that they were at a loss to care for the large crowds assembled.

WHILE NO ATTEMPT WAS MADE TO TABULATE THE PERCENTAGE OF INCREASED ATTENDANCE ON THE PART OF THE EVANGELISTIC COMMITTEE WHICH ORIGINATED THE MOVEMENT, SUFFICIENT IS KNOWN TO SAY THAT IT EXCEEDED ALL EXPECTATIONS BY MANY FOLD AND GIVES WARRANT FOR THE BELIEF THAT AT LAST THE TIDE HAS TURNED IN THE CHURCHES' FAVOR. TAKEN ALL IN ALL, IT WAS THE OCCASION FOR THE RECEPTION OF HUNDREDS WHO WERE LIFELONG STRANGERS TO CHURCH AND THE WELCOMING BACK INTO THE FOLD OF MANY WHO HAD STRAYED INTO OTHER PATHS.

Featured by a special MESSAGE OF APPROVAL FROM PRESIDENT WOODROW WILSON to churches in the Allegheny valley, Pennsylvania, GO TO CHURCH day was observed there. Advertising in newspapers, by posters, cards and personal calls was largely responsible for an unusually large turnout. The observance was under the auspices of the Allegheny Valley Ministerial association. Each church member endeavored to take with him five friends, who were urged to invite five more. The services were made attractive by special sermons and music.

Now that the GO TO CHURCH movement has been fairly launched throughout the country, don't let it lag. KEEP PLUGGING. Those who have returned to the church should not be spasmodic in their attendance. BE CONSISTENT. BE STEADY. GO TO CHURCH every Sunday!

NOTES

FROM CHAUTAUQUA N. Y.

As so many Central Kentucky people are interested in Chautauqua this year, perhaps some notes from here may be of interest.

Chautauqua is indeed beautiful for situation. It is in Southwestern New York on the northwest shore of Lake Chautauqua at an altitude of 1400 feet above sea level, and seven hundred feet above Lake Erie which is only ten miles distant.

On the waters of Lake Chautauqua may be seen little row boats, sail boats, motor boats and steam boats. The boat levee is well equipped. The bathing beach fine.

At Chautauqua is found the best muscalonge fishing in the state. This is the largest of the pike family. The excellent fishing is due to the fact that the only place in the country where muscalonge is scientifically propagated is on this lake at Bemus Point when millions of fish are placed in its waters every year.

Weekly excursions are made from here to Buffalo at the exceedingly low rate of $1.25 and to Niagara Falls for $1.50.

The health of Chautauqua is a matter of supreme importance, and is carefully looked after by the Board of Health. The drinking water is furnished by artesian wells on the hills above the grounds.

CRAB ORCHARD SPRINGS.

Old Garrard always to the fore for her share of the good things of life, is largely in evidence at this old and lovely resort. The fun is fast and furious, what with good table fare, God blessed weather, a capable orchestra for the tangoists, and bridge and motoring for those more gravely inclined, the days pass all too swiftly for these, some three hundred guests, to whom the capable bonifaces, Mr. and Mrs. Willis always pledge themselves to try to give of their best to the stranger under their eaves. That they succeed is proved more and more as the years go on.

Among the Lancasters autographed here for the week end are: Misses Nancy Wilker, Martha Kavanaugh, Edna Kavanaugh, Margaret Cook, Minnie Mae Robinson, Messrs J. L. Gill, T. C. Elkin, J. C. Robinson, J. S. Haselden, Daniel Elkin, R. Aldridge, W. Hopper, E. H. Rose, R. E. Henry, G. E. Palmer, Robt Tomlinson, Alex Robinson, E. Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Walker and son Charles, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Robinson.

Cured of Indigestion.

Mrs. Sadie P. Clawson, Indiana, Pa., was bothered with indigestion. "My stomach pained me night and day," she writes. "I would feel bloated and have headache and belching after eating. I also suffered from constipation. My daughter had used Chamberlain's Tablets and they did her so much good that she gave me a few doses of them and insisted upon my trying them. They helped me as nothing else has done." For sale by all dealers. 1-m.

Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman was indicted for voluntary manslaughter at Freeport N. Y. and was admitted to bail in the sum of $10,000. She is charged with the killing of Mrs. Louise Bailey, a patient of her husband in the latter's office.

Members of Congress have about abandoned the hope of early adjournment and now expect the session to last until December. Discussion of Trust measures, argument over the confirmation of two members to the Reserve Board and much other business is occupying their attention.

MOUNT THE CANNON.

The cannon which the late Senator Bradley caused to be sent to Lancaster as an ornament for the Park, lies in that enclosure, a grim remembrance of some bloody conflict. The committee appointed by the City Council to have the cannon mounted, has not as yet attended to this duty, and the instrument of war in its present condition would be wholly inefficient for the protection of the city in case of an attack.

MOTHER SHIPMAN'S PROPHECY.

A Prophetic Dream From the Middle Ages.

We are indebted to Mrs. Elsenia Hollister, of Detroit, for the following, which she had preserved in an old scrap book. We are not advised as to what paper the re-print was published in.

Emerson has said that "all truths are in the air, and they who are the most sensitive to them catch them first." And this medium of other days was so sensitive to these prophetic truths that she caught them and uttered them, and the ages have proven them.

The following prophecy, known as "Mother Shipman's Prophecy," was first published in 1498 and republished in 1641. It will be noticed that all the event predicted in it, except that mentioned in the last two lines, which is in the future, have already come to pass:

MOTHER SHIPMAN'S PROPHECY.
Carriages without horses shall go,
And accidents fill the world with woe
Around the world thoughts shall fly,
In the twinkling of an eye.
Water shall yet more wonders do;
How strange, yet shall be true!
The world upside down shall be
And gold be found at root of tree.
Through hill men shall ride,
And no horse or ass be at their side
Under water men shall walk,
Shall ride, shall sleep, shall talk,
In the air men shall be seen
In white, in black, in green,
Iron in the water shall float
As easy as a wooden boat,
Gold shall be found and found,
In a land that is not now known
Fire and water shall wonders do,
England shall at last admit a Jew,
And the world unto an end shall come
In eighteen hundred and eighty-one.

GENERAL BENNETT H. YOUNG ANNOUNCES HIS PLATFORM

Distinguished Candidate For the Short Term Senatorship Gives Reasons For Nomination—Asks For Recognition

GENERAL BENNETT H. YOUNG

PLATFORM AND ANNOUNCEMENT

To the Democratic Voters of Kentucky.

I am a candidate on the Democratic ticket in the primary for the Short Term in the United States Senate. This service will last only ninety days.

I ask the votes of my party because I have served it with unflinching loyalty for more than forty years. In every city, state and national campaign since 1872, without compensation, or even the payment of traveling expenses, I have gone when and where the party authorities asked, and defended Democratic principles and advocated the election of its standard-bearers.

In the contest between Governor Beckham and John W. Yerkes, at Mt. Sterling, I assisted in opening the campaign. One hundred thousand copies of my speech were distributed among the people. In the contest between Judge Hager and Wilson I rendered all possible aid to the Democratic standard-bearer.

I was one of Governor Goebel's counsel in his contest before the Election Commission, and also before the Legislature. I became Governor Beckham's adviser when he took the office, and he declared no man ever had better counsel. At his request I induced General John B. Castleman to become Adjutant General, and General Castleman's services did much to give civil war and widespread bloodshed in Kentucky. When the members of the Legislature, after the assassination of Wm. Goebel, were driven from Frankfort and their warrants for pay were refused, in order to hold them together until they could return to the capital I arranged, through my own bank, to advance the pay of all who needed or desired it until such time as warrants could be secured. This amounted to many thousands of dollars.

I was a member of the Constitutional Convention and stood for the rights of the people in every contest in that body. As Chairman of the Committee on Municipalities I favored the enactment that limits all grants of franchises to 20 years and required their sale for the benefit of the public and not for political favorites or grifters. This has already put hundreds of thousands of dollars in the city and county treasury, and will when old grants expired, add many millions more. I was the principal advocate of the clauses preventing railway discrimination and the acquisition of competing lines by railroads. The value of these provisions can not be estimated in money.

This is my first and it will be my only request for office, and after forty years of labor and service to my party I ask the honor of representing in the United States Senate the state of Kentucky, for which my forefathers fought the red man, the state in which I was born, I have lived, and always served as best I could. I pray Kentucky may always be right, but I shall always be for Kentucky, right or wrong.

BENNETT H. YOUNG.

ward one of his counsel in the contest before the Legislature. He was the last one of his lawyers to confer with him and had arranged a line of argument to be presented on the following day, a few minutes before Goebel was shot down in the grounds of the capitol. After the stricken Governor was carried to the Capital Hotel, at his request General Young went out upon the balcony of the hotel and urged the people in Frankfort to do no act of violence, but to live within the law.

At that time it was feared that the Federal Government would interfere, and when it was certain that Governor Goebel could not live, General Young was urged to come at once to Frankfort, and arrived there from Louisville about the time Goebel died.

General Young wrote the oath that Governor Beckham took upon assuming the place made vacant by the death of Governor Goebel, and at once became his advisor and counsel.

When it was necessary to advise with counsel of W. S. Taylor, who were then in the Capitol Building, with John K. Hendricks, of Paducah, General Young was appointed by the rest of Governor Goebel's counsel to confer with Mr. Taylor's lawyers and took such steps as would prevent conflict. Upon entering the State House he was confronted by soldiers who had their bayoneted guns across the entrance. Being refused admission, they defied these soldiers and entered the State House, and, after a conference with Governor Bradley and associates, such arrangements were made as prevented bloodshed between the contending factions. In connection with Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn, Phil B. Thompson and Judge Thomas Paynter, he remained in Frankfort to look after the interests of Governor Beckham. Many friends urged him to leave the capital, but he simply decided that duty called him there and he remained until the end.

Governor Beckham, in introducing him to an audience on an occasion when General Young was making a speech upon the anniversary of Governor Goebel's death, said that General Young had been his wisest and truest advisor and his best counsel in those trying days.

In the Contest Between Beckham and Yerkes.

When the contest occurred between Governor Beckham and John W. Yerkes, General Young was asked by the State Committee to make one of the opening speeches of the campaign at Mt. Sterling, Ky. The committee published 100,000 copies of this speech for distribution, and it was not only largely circulated, but published either in whole or in part in every Democratic paper in the state, and it was agreed at that time that this speech had a very large influence in aiding Governor Beckham's election.

In introducing General Young some time afterward to Hon. William Jennings Bryan, Senator Blackburn said that this Mt. Sterling speech, in his judgment, the most effective campaign speech ever made in Kentucky.

Long Service for the Democratic Party.

In every contest General Young has always borne an earnest and active part and has probably made more speeches than any man in Kentucky who has never held office. Beginning with the period when he helped carry Governor Hager to office, when he was candidate for Governor the first time, in 1875, down to the present time, his labor and his money have been at the command of the party, and he has never hesitated in his loyalty to the principles and organization of the Democratic party.

General Young is an earnest supporter of President Woodrow Wilson. General Young is an earnest supporter of President Woodrow Wilson, and believes that all loyal Democrats should rally to his support in upholding him in his wise and humane policy. This is the first and only office that General Young has ever asked at the hands of the Democrats of Kentucky, and great numbers of voters have said that in view of his long service to the party, his intellectual attainments and general fitness for this high office, the Democrats of Kentucky could send no better man to the United States Senate.

UNANIMOUSLY ENDORSED

General Young's Home County Wants Him.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted at the speaking of General Bennett H. Young at his opening address for the Short Term of the United States Senate after his speech at Nicholasville, July 4th, 1914:

"The Democrats of Jessamine County, with great satisfaction and pride, commend to the people of Kentucky their fellow-countryman, General Bennett H. Young, for the position of United States Senator for the Short Term. Born in our midst, we have watched his career for many years with general interest. Jessamine County feels honored to be able to offer to the people of Kentucky one so splendidly qualified to fill the high place to which he aspires. A Democrat of Democrats, ever loyal to the party, we are assured that he will meet every expectation of all the people of his native state.

"His forceful and eloquent advocacy of the principles of Democracy for the past forty years should endear him to every voter in Kentucky, and his usefulness as a citizen in developing the state ought to win for him a great victory in the August primary."

NINTH ANNUAL BLUE GRASS FAIR

OPENS AT LEXINGTON MONDAY, AUGUST 3—BEST FAIR IN MIDDLE WEST.

SIX BIG DAYS AND NIGHTS

Numerous Attractions, Including Thavian's Band and Concert Company
—Kline's Greater Shows.

Lexington, Ky.—Since its organization in 1906, the Blue Grass Fair has taken full rank with the largest and the best state fairs and expositions of the country. It has very justly become known as the largest horse show in the world. It is the only fair which offers a full quota and a classification for breeding classes of the three great breeds of American horses as well as show classes, simplified and arranged in a manner which makes their distinction clear. Pitched on a larger and more extensive scale than ever before, with the certainty of increased interest on account of various added features, this year's fair promises to eclipse all previous records.

Numerous additions and improvements have been made in the matter of show rings and amusement features have been secured of a kind and to an extent that justify the belief that the fair will not only prove more valuable than ever to the live stock interests of Kentucky, but also more attractive to those who visit it. In addition to the wondrous and yearling divisions, five stakes are offered in the show classes for saddle horses.

Attractive Program Each Day.
One of the most attractive programs for the week will be on Wednesday, when the classes for Standard bred horses will be shown.

In addition to the cash premiums offered and seasons to the leading horses in service are donated by various owners and should attract the attention of the entire world.

The fair will open on Monday, August 3rd, at 1 p. m., when an attractive racing program has been arranged, interesting show rings will be seen, and Thavian's Great Band and Concert Co., with some of the best soloists and grand opera singers known to the musical world will be here.

Six singers in costume will be heard in front of the grand stand every evening and there is a great treat in store for the music loving public of the Blue Grass region.

On Tuesday, the 4th, the big mule show, always a most interesting feature of the Blue Grass Fair, will be shown, and Herefords cattle will also be seen.

Various classes for sheep and swine will be judged in the pens, and the poultry and pigeons will be judged in the poultry house.

Great show rings in other classes, music by Thavian's Band will help fill out the day's program.

On Wednesday morning the breeding classes for standard bred horses as mentioned above, classes for jack stock, etc., will be shown in front of the grand stand.

Famous Blue Grass Stake Wednesday.
In the afternoon the famous Blue Grass Stake for five-gaited saddle horses, which always produces the best seen in the world. This stake always gives us a spirited and exciting contest, and brings out a large field.

Thursday is always a great day and an extra program has been arranged.
The forenoon will be taken up with the breeding classes for American saddle horses, the prizes for which are particularly rich and desirable and certain to bring about a magnificent show.

The classes for Short Horn Cattle, which always produces a show for Short Horns, will be well worth the trip of many miles to those interested in beef cattle, which will be shown in front of the grand stand. In the af-

A. F. THAVIAN'S FAMOUS BAND AND ORCHESTRA

Versally is one of the great features of the A. F. Thavian, who is coming to the Blue Grass Fair at Lexington, August 3 to 8, with his famous band and opera organization. This young Russian band leader has won an enviable place in modern music with his vigorous methods and his tasteful programs. Not only is he known in amusement parks, such as White City in Chicago, where he has played for the past five seasons, but at state fairs, such as Texas, and at Chautauqua throughout the length and breadth of the land. He has found favor with music lovers in all walks of life, and has gained fame in every quarter of the country.

Combined with his power as a conductor, he is a cornetist of great ability and his playing has been praised in the highest terms by some of the best critics in the country, notably by William Lines Hubbard, the great musical critic of the Chicago Tribune. As a program maker, Mr.
Thavian is without a peer or a rival.
He seems instinctively to know what the people want and he can vary his program to suit any gathering, from the frivolous crowds at summer parks who seek nothing but the gay and lighter melodies, to the more sedate and serious gatherings in Chautauques who demand music of a higher grade and style.

He has taken a great hold on the public fancy, and his return engagements are always welcomed with much enthusiasm. He is young, vigorous and tactful. He is a musician who obtains the most vivid effects without recourse to buffoonery or chicanery.

He knows music and knows his audiences. He has one of the very best organizations on the road this season and not only carries a band that is perfect in every detail but also provides an opera company that offers grand opera in the best taste and in the best manner. Without a doubt the presence of Thavian in Lexington will be a rare treat to all classes, from the sticker for classics, to those who are fond of the lighter popular tunes of the day.

ever before. The premium list has been revised, and classes offered cover almost every kind of woman's work and table luxuries. The third floor of the Art Hall is given entirely to this department, and is usually one of the most attractive exhibits of the Big Fair.

The second floor will again be utilized this year by the "Merchants of Lexington," and it is needless to say will be an attractive exposition of wares manufactured and sold in Lexington.

Saddle Horses.
Saddle horses will be an important feature at Lexington this year. Outstanding in importance among the live stock features of the Blue Grass Fair will be the Kentucky Stake, guaranteed $1,000, to be divided into six moneys. This stake closed with 113 entries, representing all of the best breeders in Central Kentucky, and was inaugurated this year by the Fair Association and the stake guaranteed by the management.

Additional stakes for yearlings, two-year-olds and aged classes should make this year's program the most attractive ever seen at a fair for saddle horses, as both three and five-gaited classes are provided for.

Printed herewith will be found a be required of you and other details relative to the Encampment.

Competent Men Have Been Secured to Judge Different Classes.
The management of the Blue Grass Fair have every reason to congratulate themselves upon securing competent judges for the different classes this year. Each and every one are known to be gentlemen of the highest type of unquestionable fairness and we believe with such an array of talent the entries to all classes will be very large.
The best of the different classifications and judges are as follows:

Breeding Classes for Thoroughbred Horses—Mr. G. D. Wilson, Lexington, Ky.
Breeding Classes for Standard Bred
Horses—Mr. J. W. Stout, Versailles, Ky.

Five-Gaited Saddle Horses—Mr. H.

ton, Ky., and Mr. E. W. Hoke, Louisville, Ky.

Half Fare Rates to Fair.
Do not fail to visit the Blue Grass
Fair at Lexington the week of August 3rd to 8th. One fare rates will prevail on all railroads in Kentucky. Every afternoon and evening, beginning Sunday, August 2nd, there will be magnificent band concerts, with high class vocalists in a Grand Sacred Concert.

A new standard will be set for fair music. Heretofore we have been content to hear instrumental concerts in-terpersed with some renowned soloists in choice selections, but Thavian introduces a quartette and, how they make the furthest nook and cranny of the amphitheater echo with the marvelous and ever fresh strains from "Lucia," "Il Trovatore," "Carmen,"
"Marta," etc. Hardly has the insu-ating quartette been stilled when forth troops a perfect charge of trumpets and trombone players, and, with Thavian himself leading the van, such outbursts of harmony are not often heard.
It is not the usual blatant, noisy demonstration of a brass choir, but a musically effective combination, swelling in great sounds until a startling climax is attained.

Amusement lovers who crave originality will find it to their heart's content at the Blue Grass Fair this year.
Woman's Department.
The Woman's Department of the Blue Grass Fair, to be held at Lexington August 3rd to 8th, will be more important and extensive this year than ever before. The premium list has been revised, and classes offered cover

almost every kind of woman's work
and table luxuries. The third floor of the Art Hall is given entirely to this department, and is usually one of the most attractive exhibits of the Big Fair.

A FREE TRIP FOR SOME GARRAAD COUNTY BOY To The Kentucky State Fair.

The Kentucky State Fair Management and the College of Agriculture have completed plans for a FARM BOYS' ENCAMPMENT that will give an opportunity for one boy from each of the 120 counties of the State to visit the Kentucky State Fair for a whole week without expense. The purpose of this encampment is to extend the educational advantages of the Fair to the farm of the State and to stimulate a greater interest in the State Fair by spreading throughout the one hundred and twenty counties its real worth through these farm boys.

The selection of the boys will be made on competitive examination of answers by a member of the State Board of Agriculture and a member of the Faculty of the Agricultural College.
The applicants should send all answers to the Secretary of State Fair, who will forward same to the Executive Committee for completion. This Committee will receive all applications, as set forth above, and mark all answers submitted to them.

The applicants must be of good moral character, willing to co-operate in making the encampment a success; be between the ages of 15 and 18 years, and be actual residents and workers upon the farm. No boy who has ever been enrolled in any College of Agriculture in this or any other State will be eligible to compete (this does not exclude boys who have attended the Agricultural Department in High School).

Each boy will be required to answer list of questions following:

1. How can the corn crop in your county be improved?
2. Why do greater numbers of live stock usually make a more prosperous farm?

3. Why are pure bred live stock better than scrubs?
(Answer each question in not more than 100 words).

All answers must be in the hands of the Secretary of the state Fair before August 1st. The committee will read and mark them at once and notify the Secretary of the State Fair of the name and address of the boy standing highest, which boy will be the one entitled to the free trip to the State Fair as member of the Farm Boys' Encampment from his county. The committee will keep a record of the makings of all the contestants, and the boys standing second and third in their marking will be designated as first and second alternates; the first to be selected in case the winner cannot come to the Fair, and the second alternate to be selected in case neither the winner nor first alternate can come.

Printed herewith will be found a blank application, which any boy interested may fill out, mailing to Secretary J. L. Dent, before August 1, 1914 except boys who attended the 1912 or 1913 encampment.

APPLICATION.
I am interested in the State Fair Farmer Boys' Encampment and should

He Was a Bit Puffy.
The following letter was recently addressed to the general manager of an English railway:

"Please send me one tourist ticket for Penzance return via London for train leaving Paddington next Tuesday at 10:30 a. m., arriving Penzance at 6 p. m. Please reserve corner seat facing engine as near center of train as possible—lavatory, carriage, no children, quiet company. Also luncheon (cheek) basket with glass hot milk and water (mixed) at 12 o'clock. Also tea basket China weak tea at 5 o'clock. Also a shilling for guard to see that the driver does not race or rush the train, especially around curves, and at junctions, and that the signals, well and machinery well oiled and not overheated."—London Express.

Seeing It Himself.
An actor who recently was taken while on the stage by a cinematograph was greatly pleased with the result. Talking about it to a prominent dramatic critic, he said:

"It was the most extraordinary experience I ever went through—actually to see myself acting."
"Now," replied the critic, "you will understand what we have to put up with."—New York Globe.

A Balanced Rock.
Near the summit of Mount Shattuck, in the village of Russell, Mass., is a granite balance rock which probably weighs about 100 tons. It touches its rest for about twelve inches and balances on a very small point, but it has resisted several determined attempts to dislodge it with a jackscrew.

Their Pride.
"I am a self made man," said Mr. Connors.
"And I suppose your wife and daughter are very proud of you?"
"Yes. Just about as proud as they would be of a homemade dress."—Washington Star.

Classifying Papa.
"So," said Ike, "your engagement to Al and B is broken off, is it? Why, I thought she just dated on you?"
"So she did," answered Tom, "but her father proved to be an antidote."

Not That Kind.
"I understand that your wealthy uncle has entirely given up hope."
"Don't you believe it. That man has never given up anything."—Houston Post.

Steadiness is a point of prudence as well as courage.—L. B. Conn.

A Medicine to Produce Love

By F. A. MITCHEL

"Wonderful discoveries these, doctor, that scientists are making in serums for arresting disease," said David Waterman to his friend Dr. Pulsifer.

"Very," was the laconic reply.

"There is one remedy, however, the scientists have paid little attention to."

"What's that?"
"The imagination."

"I have used it."
"The power of the imagination is illustrated daily in a thousand different ways. A smoker with his eyes shut cannot tell whether or not the weed he smokes is lighted. I have myself drunk a glass of ale, thinking it to be lager beer, and supposed it to be beer soured."

"Singular, isn't it?"
"Very."

"I wonder if that is not the way love is produced."
"Certainly. Love is a product of the imagination."

"Why, then, can't you produce it by playing upon the imagination?"
"I can and have done it. In the case of one of my patients who made herself ill by worrying whether she loved a man well enough to marry him. I pretended to make a mistake in giving her a love medicine. She married the man she was in doubt about and is now a healthy and happy wife."

"I WOULDN'T LIKE TO TELL THAT," DICK REPLIED.

A girl of seventeen entered a room adjoining the one in which the two men were chatting just in time to hear this last statement of Dr. Pulsifer, catching only the words "giving her a love medicine" and what followed.

A love medicine! She had never heard of such a thing. Could it be possible that doctors could give a medicine to produce love? She had never been in love, but was very curious to know how one in love would feel. She stood very still, hoping to hear more on this interesting topic, but Dr. Pulsifer had caught a glimpse of her and was silent.

This young lady was Dolly Waterman, the daughter of one of the men who had been conversing. A few days later Dick Otis, a young fellow of nineteen, who had formerly been her playmate and was now her friend, came to see her, and another dialogue consequent on the first took place.

"Dick," said Dolly, "do you know that there is a medicine to produce love?"

"No, I don't," replied Dick, opening his eyes very wide.

"There is."
"Who told you that rubbish?"
"It can't be rubbish, for I heard Dr. Pulsifer telling it to father."

"What did he say?"
"Why, he said he gave a love medicine to a girl who was one of his patients."

"Dr. Pulsifer said that?"
"Yes, he did. And he said, too, that she married the man it was to make her in love with and is now a happy wife."

Now, Dick Otis was by no means as unsophisticated as Dolly. He at once saw that there might be an opportunity. Love was not the subject of interest to him it was to her, for most young men of his age are given rather to love of self than love for any one else. He at once resolved to pretend to tumble to the idea.

"If Dr. Pulsifer hadn't said that I shouldn't have believed it."
"Fact," said Dolly.

"Did he say how long it required for the stuff to take effect?"
"I didn't hear him say that."

"I'd like to get some of his medicine."
"What for?"

"Well, I know a girl who I think is sweet on me. She's a good match, but somehow I can't get up any emotion for her. Perhaps if I were to take a bottle of Dr. Pulsifer's medicine it would start me."

"I know who you mean. You'd have to take a dozen bottles to get up the slightest fancy for a girl like that."

"I believe I'll go to the doctor and ask him for the prescription."
"Do."

"Why? Do you want to take it?"
"No; I want to see how it affects you."

"Humph!"
Not long after this Dick came to see Dolly with a bottle very prettily done up, with the word "Amoria" written on the label. He told Dolly that he had got it from Dr. Pulsifer—in which statement he broke the eighth commandment—and that he was going to take some of it. Wouldn't she like to take some too? Dolly asked him whom it would make him in love with, whereupon he assured her that she was mistaken in that part of the matter. A love medicine couldn't make a man love any particular girl. That was ridiculous. Dolly admitted that it was hard to believe. Dick pulled the stopper out of the bottle and held the liquid under her nose.

"Smells like roses," she said.
"That's one of the chief ingredients," Dick informed her.

"What's the dose?" she asked.
"Teaspoonful just before going to bed."

"Why then, I wonder?"
"Don't know. Maybe you'll dream of the one you are to fall in love with—like putting wedding cake under your pillow."

"Have you taken a dose yet?"
"No; I'm going to take one tonight—that is, if you will."

Dolly said she didn't care to be in love, and Dick said he had no special desire either. That was very curious to know how it would affect him and begged him to take a dose. He steadily refused till she gave in and agreed to take some of it. Then Dick poured a little into another bottle and left her the one he had brought.

Now, Dolly only consented to take the medicine for the sake of learning how it would affect Dick. She made a mental reservation. She would take it if she didn't forget to do so. But she didn't forget it. When she went to bed she took up the bottle, looked at it, held it up to the light and smelled of it. The perfume was delicious. She touched it with her tongue and it was like a new kind of candy. She poured a tiny bit into a spoon and put it between her lips. It was so nice that she concluded to take half a teaspoonful, which, being only half a dose, wouldn't affect her. It was so delicious that she concluded to take the other half teaspoonful. When she went to bed she had taken all there was in the bottle.

Dick had promised to come to see her the next evening and tell her how he felt. He did so, anticipating a lot of fun, since he intended to pretend that he was madly in love with her. Nevertheless he determined not to hurry matters nor to overdo it.

"Well?" said Dolly as soon as they were together.

"Well?" repeated Dick. "I took all there was in the bottle."

"With what result?"
"I went to sleep dreaming of a girl I had known for years. I had supposed I felt only a friendship for her, but in this was mistaken. For the first time I realized that I loved her and had always loved her."

"Oh, dear! Who is she?"
"There wasn't the slightest reason for this question, for Dick told her with his eyes who the girl was."

"I wouldn't like to tell that," Dick replied. "until I learn how she feels toward me. How did the medicine affect you?"

"I? Oh, I didn't."
"Are you sure?"
"I don't think I took enough to affect me."

"How much did you take?"
"I took half a teaspoonful."
"Didn't it make you feel a bit queer?"

"But it tasted so nice I took another half teaspoonful. Fact is I took all there was."

"Don't you feel any different?"
"He was standing very near her, she resting one hand on a table on which there were violets. Dick took the other hand in his. He stood thus for a few moments, looking into her eyes, which were bent down upon the violets. Then he bent forward to her lips, she withdrawing them slightly. It may have been imagination, produced by a little sweetened water pleasantly flavored; it may have been the perfume of the violets. Whatever it was, when their lips met Dr. Pulsifer's theory was proved—love had been kindled."

"Oh, Dick," she said, looking up at him through her beautiful eyes, a happy smile on her face. "I feel so nice!"

"So do I!"
"I wouldn't have believed it. Would you?"

"Not if it hadn't come from one of the most advanced physicians in the country."

Then a cloud passed over her fair brow.

"But suppose that when we stop taking the medicine we fall back to where we were?"
"Then we'll take more of it."

"But we haven't any more; it's all gone."

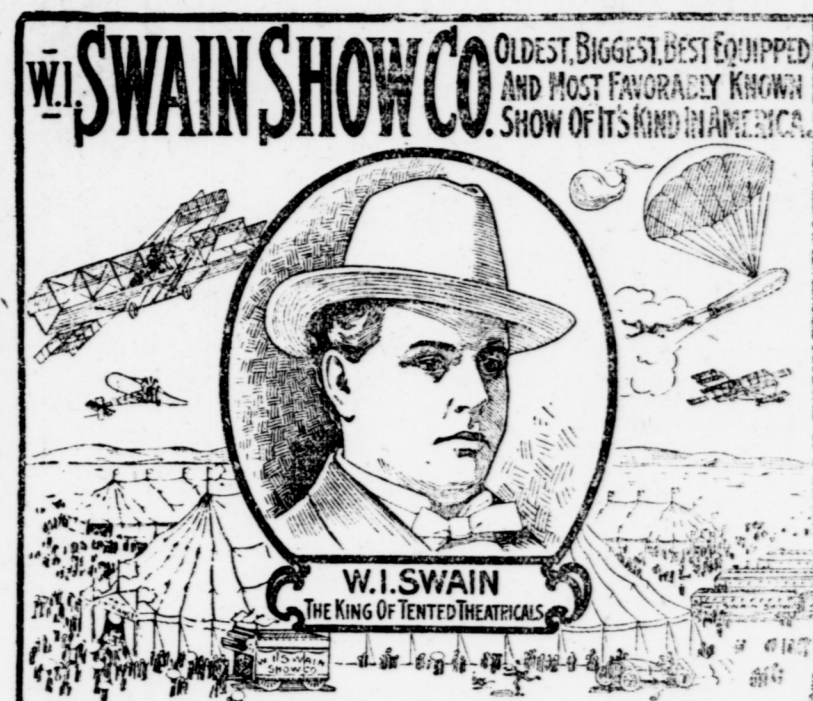

"I have the prescription. I'll order a cask of it."

There was no fear that the flame, having been kindled, would cease to burn. Indeed, it became a conflagration, which burned itself out only when the honeymoon had waned to a present thread, and it left live coals that glowed with all the steadiness of a love that no love potion can ignite and no anti-love toxin can kill—the love of a united family.
